

FALCON NEWS

PRINCIPAL, CLAYTON COBB

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL, KATHERINE SUCKLE

Dear St. Joseph Families,
It is the end of the 9 weeks! Well, it will be on Thursday. On Monday morning, I met with our students in the gym to discuss finishing strong. We happen to dovetail with our virtue for the month of October-Responsibility. A school-age child's chief responsibility is to be as good a student as possible. In this final week of the nine weeks, students should feel a strong sense of responsibility to study hard for these exams, to submit all homework and classwork, and to communicate with teachers to identify areas for improvement for the second nine weeks.

As parents, we undoubtedly make it our responsibility to hold our children accountable for studying and submitting their work on time. Let us also fulfill our responsibility in helping them out in other ways. While it may not be apples to apples with an adult life of bills, cooking, and running the afternoon gauntlet to practices all over town, it is still a high level of responsibility for them. Let us strive to listen to them and see how we can assist them in their efforts.

At times, a student may feel uncomfortable saying in class, "I don't understand." They may not feel they can communicate openly when something is bothering them. This is where we, as adults, should provide an encouraging word and a listening ear. After the 9 weeks are over, review matters with your child and see if there's a way we as a school can better assist some of these needs. St. Joseph, pray for us.

VIRTUE OF RESPONSIBILITY

ALSO KNOWN AS: DUTY

ST. LAWRENCE

DEFINITION:

Fulfilling one's just duties; accepting the consequences of one's words and actions, intentional and unintentional

LOOKS LIKE: Keeping your room clean

SOUNDS LIKE: I cleaned my room

PRAYER:

Dear Jesus, please help me to be faithful in all the duties You have entrusted to me this day, fulfilling each with great care and love!

Lawrence lived in Rome during the persecution of Valerian. He was a deacon and worked closely with Pope St. Sixtus II. As a deacon, it was his job to take care of the Church's money. His most important task was to help the poor, especially the widows and orphans. The Romans heard that Lawrence was the Church's treasurer. They ordered him to hand over the treasures of the Church, thinking they would get gold and silver. Instead, he brought the poor of Rome and said they were the Church's true treasure. St. Lawrence and Pope Sixtus were martyred a few days apart.
